Bio /Charles J. Moxley, Jr.

Charlie Moxley is an experienced international litigator, arbitrator, mediator, and educator. The principal in MoxleyADR, he is an Adjunct Professor at Fordham Law School, teaching arbitration and nuclear weapons law, the Distinguished ADR Practitioner in Residence at Cardozo Law School, and a Fellow of the College of Commercial Arbitrators and of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.

Charlie is the author of Nuclear Weapons and International Law in the Post Cold War World (Austin & Winfield 2000), the principal author of the 2000 report of the Foreign and International Law Committee of the New York County Lawyers' Association, "On the Unlawfulness of the Use and Threat of Use of Nuclear Weapons," the co-author of the March 2008 Statement by the Lawyers Committee on Nuclear Policy, "Ending U.S. Reliance on Nuclear Weapons and Achieving Their Global Elimination: Wise Policy and Required by Law," and the author of numerous law review and other articles on nuclear weapons law and policy.

With John Burroughs and Jonathan Granoff, Charlie authored the 2011 article, "Nuclear Weapons and Compliance with International Humanitarian Law and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty," which appeared in the Fordham International Law Journal. Charlie also authored the article in the same edition of that journal titled "Obama's Nuclear Posture Review: An Ambitious Program for Nuclear Arms Control But a Retreat from the Objective of Nuclear Disarmament."

Charlie regularly speaks in public forums and lectures on the subject of nuclear weapons and international law. He was Chair of the February 25, 2010 Fordham Law School conference on "Nuclear Weapons and International Law: A Nuclear Non-Proliferation Regime for the 21st Century" and addressed the conference on the subject of Nuclear Weapons and International Humanitarian Law.

Charlie has been a litigator handling large commercial, securities, insurance and other cases in federal and state courts throughout the United States for over 40 years. He started serving as an arbitrator in 1977 with the American Arbitration Association (the "AAA") when he was an associate at Davis Polk & Wardwell.

Charlie has published widely in the arbitration area and regularly lectures at academic and professional functions on the subject, including at Fordham, Cardozo, and other law schools and at AAA, American Bar Association, New York State Bar Association ("NYSBA"), New York City Bar Association, and ARIAS-US functions and events.

Charlie has been a bar leader for many years. He is currently Co-Chair of the Committee on Arbitration and ADR of the Commercial and Federal Litigation Section (“ComFed”) of the NYSBA and a member of ComFed’s Executive Committee. Charlie also serves as a member of the Executive Committee of the Dispute Resolution (DR) Section of the NYSBA and is a former Chair of that Section. Charlie also has served as a delegate to NYSBA’s House of Delegates.

Charlie started out his career at Davis Polk & Wardwell, following his graduation from Columbia Law School and a clerkship in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, following which he practiced in a number of smaller litigation firms before opening his own firm.
